and look over the things we have done to prices in Men's Wear for this Fall. Makes it look as though your money was going to go just as far as three-dollar wheat would send it. For instance—

Heavy Winter Caps a dollar forty-five,
Pure-wool heavy-weight Combinations
at six dollars.

Flannel shirts for two and six bits,
and—well we can't tell you about everything—this space costs too much money, but a once over of our stock will sure give you a big prep'at the lining of those clouds that are looking so black—and you'll save on the silver too.

Creamery Project Under Way

Will Be First Factory to Locate in District. Will Increase Values of Farm Lands. Plant to Cost in Neighborhood of $40,000.

Preparations for the commencement of preliminary work on the proposed factory of the Saskatchewan Creamery Co. has now begun. A site has been secured on the "strip" east of the townsite, and a contract for the well has been let. Mr. Cunningham is here in the interests of the Company, and farmers and business men are being solicited to buy stock of the Company in order that the building program may be proceeded with.

Several fazed blocks of stock have already been disposed of, and most of the stock has been sold. Farmers in general realize the vital effect the establishment of a Creamery at this point will have on farm values, and where able are doing their best to keep the ball rolling. The Company requires about $50,000 worth of stock to be taken locally. The point we are informed will cost in the neighborhood of $40,000. The Board of Trade members have been assisting Mr. Cunningham in selling stock by the use of their cars and time. The Creamery will be the first factory to be established in the district and the project is one which should have the support of our rural and town citizens.

The court now sitting at Kindersley has decided a case of joint interests in granting a Lichtenstein divorce from his wife, the custody of the children and guardianship against the non-responsibility. The domestic troubles of the Lichtensteins have been before the courts for several months—etc.

The Late Mae Davis

The news of the sudden death of Mae Davis has created a wave of sympathy throughout our community. She was but eighteen years of age and died at 5 a.m. Monday morning in the Moose Jaw hospital. Sugar diabetes was the cause of death.

She was of a very pleasant disposition, and had made many friends. She was suffering from her illness when she came to visit her aunt, Mrs. W. C. Boyd, here, in the summer holidays, and was under the care of Dr. MacCharles during the time of her stay in Empress.

On Friday last she left for Moose Jaw in the company of Mrs. Boyd. They were met there by her father, Mr. W. B. Davis, brother to Mrs. W. C. Boyd.

On Saturday, she seemed in the best of spirits and visited her girl friends there. Sunday, she was taken suddenly ill and passed away at 5 a.m. Monday morning. Since early childhood she has been taken care of by Mrs. W. C. Boyd and her grandmother, Mrs. Davis. Her mother died at an early age.

The funeral is to take place at Moose Jaw today, and interment will be made there. floral tributes have been sent from her girl friends of our town. This young life has passed into the joy of her Lord and her memory will prove a perpetual inspiration to all who knew her as a friend.

Len, nevertheless, ran the wrong of a pitchfork into the calf of his leg and is confined to his bed as a consequence.

Don't forget the "Hard Times" dance, by the Bachelor's Club on November 11.

A. L. Insole, left on Saturday last, for his home at Virden, Man.

Young People Celebrate Hallowe'en

The Spook, witches, goblins, brownies and other grotesque creatures who have their day will be arranged with electric lightings on Hallowe'en restricted their in the centre of the room and operations this year in Empress the evening closed with all mostly to pranks of an innocent nature. This was probably due, in part, to a growing sense of the fitness of things and in part to the provision of other means whereby these jolly spirits might enjoy their annual caravans.

On Saturday evening Mrs. Johnson gave a party for the younger children, who were out in full force and had a rousing time. On Monday evening the older boys and girls belonging to the Boy Scouts and Canadian Girls in Training, assisted by the leaders of these organizations held a party in their club room in the Englehardt building. There were about one hundred present and the verdict of the boys at my rate, is that they had one "Wallof a time". All were in costumes, strange and weird, giving a spooky atmosphere fitting to the occasion. The room was appropriately decorated and booths were provided where two fair spuds of the gypsy variety revealed the mysteries of the future. Another booth presented the great Cho Sene, a has been and still another featured a grand monkey show all greatly pleasing to the young folk. The other items on the "Booth" menu were taken

INDIAN WITCHCRAFT

The strange experience of O-ge-mas-es when Wus-ke-nings, an Indian sorceress, casts her evil spell.

By O-GE-MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

(Copyrighted)

In the early 'seventies, when in charge of a Hudson's Bay Post on Lake Manitoba, where poisoning by native Indian medicines was prevalent, evidence was brought before my self as the local authority, making a series of charges against an Indian named Wus-ke-nings who it was claimed, had given poison to one of the tribe whereby he was in danger of losing his life and at that time was lying in a semi-paralyzed condition. We considered the evidence justifiable and the Indian was then delivered nearest magistrate, some 60 miles distant, and, if possible, procuring a warrant for her arrest. It was decided that I should go with the papers. The Indian was dead of winter and the lake was frozen solidly from shore to shore.

I finally decided to start alone the next evening and being the fortunate possessor of a splendid train of dogs looked forward to the trip with enjoyment. The dog train consisted of a dozen dogs, some of them tall, clean lined hounds, their maul gait was six miles per hour, but if pressed they could easily outrun a horse. Once having passed over a frozen lake, the dogs were soon from a direct course whether it snowed or not. Herod, Nero, Herc and Mero were their names and I loved them with a great love. Kindly natured and devoted to me, still they would bark at any Indians in company. This light, after the last of an hour, as nearly as I could judge the time, became more erratic in its movements, making dances in different directions; coming back again to the right and again to the left.

It struck me as remarkable the dogs apparently would not look at me, and yet when it approached closer I could see the hair bristling on their necks. Finally it began to move to the northeast towards a large white mass of snow. It was a poor white mass, and really froze the winter previous; and, finally, appearing no larger than a cat's eye in the distance, disappeared.

Reaching the bluffs I booted the kettle and the dogs fed themselves a dried buffalo meat. The dogs were not companionable, seemed oppressed and would not respond to my caresses. Pitching up again I made my destination at breakfast time and during the course of the meal I made my conjecture as to the mysterious light. This was dropped and the conversation turned to the object of my visit. The magistrate, after carefully examining the evidence, submitted it to the poisoner, decided to commit him to the gaol for the detection of Wus-ke-nings, and this I was to take back with me.

After attending to some other business I returned to my post and found that the Indian woman had fled to parts unknown. The same evening James Sinclair, a member of the post, and also a 700-lb. whistled farm dog, which were trained to come to him places, hatched up and away we went. For some miles the trail lay through woods and then came the open bogs, wind swept and desolate, with no signs of life to a point called the Bluff. While I lay back in my cradle, comfortably wrapped in furs, the miles slipped by until I was about half way across. By this time a few fleecy clouds had come up, but the sky was clear and the light which could make the sky still very light. A feeling suddenly came over me that I was no longer alone. Lode to distract my comfortable position I lay still for a few minutes until the feeling of present helplessness and anxiety, and then I lay back again. This to the left of the foremost dog about three feet above the jowls, a ball of phosphorescent light dancing along and keeping pace with the dogs, not more than thirty feet from me. This wild and Indian dog recovered but never regained his former strength.

Alberta Wool Still Moving. The Alberta Sheep-Borders' Association, which has its headquarters at Calgary, Alberta, has just sent forward another car of wool to Western Ontario. This makes seventeen cars loaded this year at $38,388 pounds of wool.

It is interesting to note that this wool has been sent in 575 consignments. Further consignments are expected from members of the association of about 29,000 pounds, which will bring the total weight up to 367,488 pounds.

Winter Storage Of Vegetables

Some Valuable Suggestions as to Proper Methods to Follow

Adopting the method of the ordinary garden vegetables can be stored for winter use if a little care is taken.

Most vegetables are best stored at a temperature just above the freezing temperature of water. They are best kept where it is dry as well as cool. A temperature of 32° F. is too dry nor too damp. Damp causes mold and too dry atmosphere shrivels. In this country there is more danger of damage from having too dry than from it being too moist.

Where there is a furnace in the basement or cellar it will be better to partition off a room for the vegetables to prevent their being too hot. There should be a space between the top of partition so as to admit heat due to extremely cold weather.

Vegetables should not touch cement or stone walls, but there should be an air space between the vegetables and the walls.

Where there is no furnace a partition should be made for a small store for additional warmth during the colder of the winter.

Don't let the frost injure the crops you take them into the cellar. Don't bring them in while they are wet.

Don't cover roots with damp sand if the cellar is hot. They will start to grow if you do.

Don't cover onions, squash with a cool collar. They will keep better in a drier, some what warmer room.

Don't forget to wash your storage roots and sort out any decayed specimens before you store them. Make a rule to visit the cellar every day for the inspection of vegetables.

It is possible to store a small amount of a root in a storage room.

A desire to accomodate young women while attracted the young women from their home in Chicago, they said during a visit to Fort Worth, Texas, last week. The young women are in the market for farming and a few Jersey cattle raising.

They met with several disastrous experiences from a financial standpoint.

They started out and bought the cattle in Farmer's market, of what was the old X J I cattle outfit. For their Jersey cattle they received just enough money to purchase 100 sheep and from this money started the present business.

The women themselves are said to be expert sheep handlers. They maintain ranch headquarters at Bovina, Texas.

Made Fortune From Sheep

Texas Will Give Lectures in Canada.

"Sheep queen" of Texas range have been asked to lecture to widows of fallen Canadian soldiers, and explain their "great adventure" to other women ambitious enough and keen enough to duplicate it on the Dominion prairies.

Two of the Texas women, Mrs. Jeanne H. H. and Mrs. Miss Dona Gardner, may accept the invitation. The sisters are daughters of a retired Chicago manufacturer, and own and manage 3,000 acres of land in Parson county, Texas, and with 5,000 sheep, were sold during the past summer.

The signal success of these "sheep queens" was heralded during the meeting of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, and the invitation to Canada came from the organization, and to the invitation, to visit Canada on a lecture tour.

The invitation came from the head of the Federated Women's Club of the Dominion, who wrote personal letters to Mrs. Hart.

The two young women also have been deluged with letters from workers who are desirous of learning the ranching business. Made available already in the sheep business in the west are seen the signs of their coming of letters.

Hope of Mankind in Democratic Government Of Anglo-Saxon Races

Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, in speaking to the American Bar Association said: "We are co-trustees of the world, and we must work at an immeasurable cost in blood and tears, which we must safeguard for ourselves and our children."

"The spring of the upward movement in democracy is in religion, not in politics, and that must ever be, for children of this world are wiser in their generation than the children of light."

Professor Truman of the Nova Scotia Agricultural College and Professor Barton are agreed, however, that unless the older is over distended there is little or no advantage to be gained by milking three times a day. These authorities are quoted in the September number of The Agricultural Gazette of Canada.

Professor Wade-Toolie also contributed to a solution of the same problem by giving results

of tests made at the Ontario Agricultural College. The tests are to be continued and Professor Toolie hopes to be able to give a more definite opinion another year than he does at present. In the meantime he shows that three high-class pure bred cows gave more by three than by twice milking a day. His present conclusions, however, are the same as those of Professor Barton and Truman.

A FACT

A woman will want help for
a few hours a day. Another
will wish she could find part
time employment. The family
up the street wish it had a
piano, and you are going away
and wish you had a place for
it, or could dispose of yours. A touring classified ad. is a real power
in bringing it all about and
everybody registers satisfaction.

Shall cows be milked twice
or three times a day? For the average reader this may seem
of small concern. To the farmer
and dairyman it is a question
of considerable interest. Tests
have recently been made in Nova Scotia, Quebec, and Ontario. Professor Barton of Mac-

been found from the standpoint
of economy and safety, a cow giving 60 lbs. of milk a day should

A FACT

A woman will want help for
a few hours a day. Another
will wish she could find part
time employment. The family
up the street wish it had a
piano, and you are going away
and wish you had a place for
it, or could dispose of yours. A touring classified ad. is a real power
in bringing it all about and
everybody registers satisfaction.

Shall cows be milked twice
or three times a day? For the average reader this may seem
of small concern. To the farmer
and dairyman it is a question
of considerable interest. Tests
have recently been made in Nova Scotia, Quebec, and Ontario. Professor Barton of Macdonald College says that it has
been found from the standpoint
of economy and safety, a cow
